

Deliver THE PROMISE

Get the NDIS on track

The National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) promises a better life for half a million Australians with disability.

But the way it's being implemented means:

1 in 10

disability service providers discussed closing in 2017

28% of service providers made a loss

More than 1/2 say they will have to reduce the quality of services under NDIA prices*

Without disability service providers, the NDIS won't work.

To get the NDIS on track we need:

1. Independent Pricing by July 2019

To reflect the real cost of supporting people with disability in every corner of Australia.

2. Less red tape

So the focus of the NDIS is on people not bureaucracy.

3. Better NDIS planning

So NDIS plans are flexible, allow local decision making and give participants the supports they say they need.

4. Real sector safeguards

To support a dynamic, diverse disability sector that provides the choice and quality of supports the NDIS promised.

5. A focus on employment and a National Workforce Strategy

To support NDIS participants into jobs AND build a workforce that can meet demand.

Let's make sure we deliver the NDIS promise and get the NDIS on track.
